HUNGEXPO 2018

– The next fifty years

Special anniversaries aren't just important because they give us the opportunity to consider our results and successes, but also because it's a time for designating the direction, goals and tasks of the next period. This fall, Hungexpo is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary. This is a huge thing, since in our continuously changing world, a firm with a half decade-long history signifies continuity and safety.

With some loftiness, I might say that we were the first and immediately the biggest on the market. And what makes this 50 years so amazing is that we are still the biggest. This is mainly due to the fact that we always had reserves to draw on and things to learn.

If we look solely at the last fifty years, we can see that there is five decades' worth of work behind the fact that Budapest and HUNGEXPO are now hosting the most significant exhibitions in the region, including construction industry, home making, gardening, agricultural, food industry, travel and automotive professional gatherings and general public fairs. We provide complex marketing services for exhibitors and event promoters alike. Our personalized, innovative solutions provide our partners with advantages which couldn't be gained in any other way. Our position is reinforced by the fact that for 12 years, we've been working through our French parent company, putting its knowledge and experience accumulated in an international environment to good use. The developments over the following years will lead to increasingly innovative solutions. Our investments to be realized in the not-so-distant future will provide our exhibitors with additional opportunities.

Now that we're embarking on our next fifty years, we know that Hungexpo can only remain the most significant operator on the market by maintaining a continuous dialogue with visitors and exhibitors alike. This is what makes us stronger and more efficient. Therefore, we look forward to your comments, ideas and suggestions so we could share in the celebrations of our next major anniversary.

EXHIBITOR RECOMMENDATIONS

CONSTRUMA

"The flexibility of the Hungexpo team is amazing. They helpfully and honestly guide exhibitors' organizers and marketing staff along the road to a successful presentation. They are great to work with!"

András Lányi, marketing manager,

FAKRO Magyarország Ltd.

"Each market sector needs a comprehensive professional event where competitors, partners and potential consumers can all gather under one roof. As the demand for construction projects is on the rise, Construma has an especially important role in presenting our novelties, our complex, now also flat-top roof solutions in one bundle to private customers, thus inspiring residential project owners already in the planning phase. That is why we participate in this exhibition year by year to showcase our innovations, so that we could meet consumers, partners and join the professional forums."

Gábor Miheller, managing director, Bramac Ltd.

Budapest Boat Show

"We were happy to participate at the Budapest Boat Show. The high standards of the event attracted a quality audience. The organizers were helpful during the exhibition and addressed all our needs. The stand prepared for us was worthy of our firm, therefore I heartily recommend the event and the organizers for future exhibitors."

Ágnes Alexandra Garamvölgyi, marketing group leader,
Ivanics Ltd.

Budapest Motor Festival

"The Budapest Motor Festival is a business opportunity that has a far greater significance than any appearance, exhibition or advertisement! This is the start of the motor season, awaited by motorcycle enthusiasts, exhibitors, young and old alike. The presence at this event is synonymous with providing a colour on the motorcycle palette for the diverse and attractive image of the Hungarian motorcycle scene!"

József Hadnagy, owner, chief organizer, Kunmadár

Sirha Budapest

"We're deeply pleased with the chance to participate at the Sirha Budapest exhibition which allowed us to present our marking technology and packaging-material handling systems for a high quality, well-segmented group of visitors. We dealt with a decent, flexible and outstanding exhibition organizing team, both during the design process of our personalized package and the arrangements for our appearance at the event."

Szabolcs Horváth, Sales & marketing,
Masterprint Jelöléstechnika Ltd.

AGROmashEXPO

"The AGROmashEXPO event of 2017 was the biggest top quality agricultural exhibition of the year. Kuhn Center Magyarország Kft. has been participating at this distinguished event every event since 2015 in the agricultural machine exhibitor category. In 2016, our Kuhn ESPRO 6000 towed seeder machine receive a product development award, and in 2017 we received a certificate in the best-looking large stand category. The hosts provide a range of highly diverse and varied events and the organizers are kind and helpful, in relation to both the pre-exhibition organizing work or any problems coming up during the event. I heartily recommended attending the event for all agricultural employees, traders and resellers as well as members of the general public."

Zsófia Egyedi, trade assistant,
Kuhn Center Magyarország Ltd.

Travel

"On behalf of Turespaña, I would like to thank you for the magnificent work during the Travel 2017 tourism fair. We were very pleased with the construction of the stand, the design and the catering. So please allow me to congratulate you for an excellent job. We wish to represent Turespaña again at next year's Travel Exhibition."
